

SSMG General Assembly 2018 – Call for abstracts for SSMG Young Investigator Award

Dear SSMG members,

as discussed at last year's annual meeting of the SSMG in Basel, we wanted to give "Young Investigators" the opportunity to present their ongoing research at the annual meetings. We had agreed on a new 1,5 days format of the annual meeting from 2019, where half a day will be filled with oral and poster presentations of Young Investigators.

For organizational reasons, the upcoming annual meeting 2018 in Berne (13th April) will still have the traditional 1 day format. Despite the limited time frame, we decided to start with a Young Investigators initiative.

The Scientific Committee of the SSMG herewith would like to invite trainees (not older than 40 years) to submit an abstract with their ongoing (unpublished) work for a new SSMG Young Investigator Award. Please submit your abstracts until 28th February 2018 to sven.cichon@unibas.ch. The scientific board of the SSMG will review and select the abstracts for either an oral or poster presentation. Applicants will be notified of the board's decision after 20th March 2018.

We look forward to receiving your submissions!

With best regards,

Sven Cichon
Chair of the SSMG Scientific Board
